G.T.P. OFFICIALS IN MIRROR

H. H. Brewer, general superintendent; Morley Davidson, general manager; and W. P. Hinton, general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific, were in Mirror last Friday night. The official party went through to the end of the steel by special train on Saturday returning the following morning.

The completion of the bridge at the Bow river will take place in about a week, after which two and a half miles of steel will be laid to the Elbow river where another bridge has to be built. There are now nine cars of bridge steel in the Mirror yards for the Elbow bridge and these will be taken south to-morrow (Saturday.)

August 1st is the latest date at which it is expected that a through train will be running on the Tofted-Calgary branch.

A G.T.P. fence gang are busy building a fence at the crossing on Arthur street.

Last Friday evening the local yards presented an extremely busy appearance and one could easily imagine that he was in an old established railroad centre. Fourteen engines were scattered through the yards as well as filling the round house.

The steam shovel has been moved from the gravel pit at the Red Deer river to the Irricana pit. The road will be ballasted from that point south to Calgary and north to Trochu.

E. A. Bickby, who has been filling the position of clerk in Train Master Carey's office for the past two years has gone to Cluny, Alta. His place has been taken by Mr. McDonald.

A number of changes in residences have taken place during the past week and a small epidemic of moving seems to have struck the town, although we are thankful to say the people are not moving out of town. D. and Mrs. Hutchison and family moved to the house recently purchased from Joe Eby; K. B. and Mrs. Iveson have taken up their residence in the house vacated by the Hutchisons; Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Dowsell and family moved to their new home on Roome avenue; R. M. Herriman has moved his office from Carroll avenue to the corner of Lake and Gilman; and H. Hattam his building from Carroll ave. north to a lot on Gilman ave. south.

A RECORD FOR BUILDING LAST MONTH

During the past month or so a marked increase in the number of buildings erected and in course of erection in Mirror is noticeable to anyone taking a walk over the townsite. The large amount of shrubbery scattered over the town hides to a great extent the many buildings that have been built lately, and even some of our own townspeople are not aware of the work that has been accomplished in the past five or six weeks, while it is impossible for a transient visitor to fully realize the size of Mirror as it is today.

The lumber firms have had a very busy season so far and in comparison with last year's output the amount of business has more than doubled. The local contractors are all busy on new buildings and have plans in hand for additional new structures as well as alterations in several previously erected.

A number of houses have been built by speculators and were snapped up by tenants as cases as completed and in some cases the people moved in before the finishing touches were applied.

The following is a partial list of the new buildings and changes:

Fred. Dowsell, new two-story residence; stone foundation; new barn;
D. Hutchison, addition and alterations;
Tom Velts, four-room cottage;
Robt. Bowcott, addition;
H. J. Raymer, addition and alterations;
W. R. Carnell, six room, two-story house, 22x34;
L. L. Cassidy, abode;
Wm. Dennis, confectionery and bake shop, 22x50;
M. Flinchum, sr., eight-room house;
Mr. Flinchum, jr., abode;
Martin Eld, abode;
Harry Mitchell, abode;
F. W. Fewkes, four-room cottage;
Jno. Glazebrook, abode;
H. Higgins, abode;
Joe Ahearn, four-room cottage;
Jas. McKirdy, abode;
J. F. Flowwelling, addition;
Wm. Stump, two-deck verandah and alterations to hotel;

BOARD OF TRADE

Regular meeting held in school house on 21st May; with President in the chair.

The Board in co-operation with the "Made in Canada" train ordered 500 posters to be printed and distributed all over this part of the country.

The secretary was instructed to write the G. T. P., re-lighting at the depot, it being the unanimous opinion of the board that the lighting at the station was entirely inadequate.

It was decided by the board that the merchants of the town each supply a photo of their building, and after selecting the best photos, cuts be secured and pamphlets will be made giving views of different parts of the business section of the town, and same be used for advertising purposes.

In co-operation with the Boat Club a sign will be erected facing the depot, stating the relative positions of Mirror and Buffalo Lake and the whole sign will be donated in the following manner:

—Lumber, W. C. McCormick;
Work, J. Swartz;
Hardware, H. Keisel;
Painting, A. W. Clouston;
Paint, Mirror Cash Store.

After several interesting discussions on subjects pertaining to the board the meeting adjourned at 11.15 p. m.

Geo. Robinson has moved his house from the rear of his lot on Lake street to a lot in block 104.

THE MIRROR BOAT CLUB IS ORGANIZED

That the people of Mirror are intensely interested in the formation of a Boat Club was clearly demonstrated at a meeting held in the school house last Wednesday evening. The meeting was the result of a good deal of work on the part of Geo. Robinson, who has taken a leading part in getting things started. A list was circulated through town about a week ago and up to date thirty-one members have signed the list, agreeing to pay $10 and a fee of 50c per month.

N. G. H. Ruthven occupied the chair. On motion it was decided to call the organization the Mirror Boat Club, with white and green as the colors.

The following will officiate during the coming term:

Hon. Pres., Arch - Deacon Dewdney;
Pres. and Commodore, Geo. Robinson;
Vice-Pres., W. B. Lee;
Sec.-Treas., R. Johnstone;
Director for three years, N. G. H. Ruthven;
For two years, W. C. McCormick;

For one year, Hans. Kiesel. Further business transacted. That directorate have power, control and direction of all finances to be distributed;

The President was authorized to appoint a committee to draw up by-laws to be read at the next meeting and adopted at the following general meeting. The President named W. B. Lee, R. C. Slife and N. G. H. Ruthven as a committee;

The President informed the meeting that members of the Board of Trade had agreed to furnish a sign gratis to be placed near the station when the Boat Club have something tangible to show at the Lake. Wording of sign will be left to the Executive;

Mr. Lee announced that a party in town had agreed to donate lumber for the landing stage;

A number were in favor of buying from two to four skiffs and also getting the three local boat builders to build boats as samples, the purchasing of same to be left to the discretion of the directorate;

It was decided however to leave the question entirely in the hands of the executive;

The directors have power to select a site for boat house and wharf and go right ahead with the work;

W. B. Lee offered a free site on the lake front and give title for same as soon as selected. The offer was accepted with thanks;

Mr. Weir, an old Argonaut football player and rower from Toronto, Ont., addressed the meeting and gave some advice re the kind of boats to buy.

The amount of business transacted at the first meeting speaks well for the organization and if the same spirit prevails for the balance of the season the Mirror Boat Club will become a permanent institution and prove one of Mirror's best assets.

EXHIBITION TRAIN TO VISIT MIRROR

The 'Made-in-Canada' exhibition train which will tour the West will be in Mirror on Tuesday, June 24th. This travelling National Exhibition will consist of twelve cars, containing exhibits of the products of a number of representative Canadian industries, which will be arranged as attractively and compactly as possible. The whole train will be electric lighted and will be splendidly lighted throughout. The dining-car will be fitted up as a demonstration car, and in connection with the exhibition an illustrated lecture with lantern views of various features of Canada's industrial development will be given. The whole exhibition and the illustrated lecture will be free, and there is no question that the train will be one of the most novel attractions that has ever been in Mirror.

Representatives of the firms exhibiting will be on the train, and all will be glad to learn of the natural resources and other advantages of Mirror and district for manufacturing. In fact the manufacturer of the East is depending, through this train, to give him an idea of what can be done along industrial lines in the Prairie Provinces. Therefore, the exhibition and the various features in connection with it will be thoroughly in accord with the citizens' policy of encouraging industries to locate in this district.

The exhibition will be unique in the history of industrial development in Canada, and will be of great educational value to those who view it.

By "Bud"

Lloyd George, the great English statesman said: "Back to the land," and taxed the rich man; but somebody pointed that and it now reads: "Back to the farm," and thievery man does the taxing.

It is rumoured that a complaint is going to be laid against the G. T. P. for having a freight train standing on the crossing near the Lamerton siding for an hour, thereby delaying a gentleman and his trusting female partner from returning home.

Mirror has taken one more step towards being a great city. A second-hand store has been opened and the three-half sign will soon be displayed on the main thoroughfare.

They tell me that the "Lee-way" to money is by buying Buffalo Lakeview real estate.

It was the first baby born in the village after Lloyd George's thirty-bob-if-your-card's-properly-stamped scheme had come into being, and the rector, in the kindness of his heart, considered that a present of some sort should be made to the child to commemorate the occasion. So after a week or so had elapsed the presentation duly took place, and the proud and happy father received a silver cup, which was handed to him by the rector, accompanied by a few well-chosen words suitable to the auspicious event. Then the young parent, in answer to the request for a speech, gave tongue as follows: "I'm sure I thank you very much for this real beautiful cup, sir," he began, bashfully addressing the rector, "but it, so to speak, puts me in a bit of an 'ole." Here he paused for a moment. Then he continued bravely, "Am I expected to win it three years' runnin' afore I can keep it?"

A western editor received the following letter: "Please send me a few copies of the paper which had the obituary and verses about my child a week or so ago. Also publish the enclosed clippings about my niece's marriage. And I wish you would mention in your local columns, if it doesn't cost anything, that I have two bull calves to sell. Send me a paper this week. As my subscription is out please stop the paper. Times are too hard to waste money on newspapers."

HOG RAISING A PROFITABLE BUSINESS

The writer prefers the "A" shape portable hog house. The portable hog house is cheap and convenient. It is eight feet long, eight feet high, and the roof is eight feet in length, making the building seven feet high. The door in the front is two and a half feet wide, those feet high, and another at the back near the top is 12 by 18 inches. The small door can be covered with heavy muslin, admitting air and light without draught. The frame is made of 2 by 4's and is covered with drop siding. No floor is used. When it is desired to move the building it may be tipped over into a low wagon or stone boat. This is the house we recommend for beginners. It is cheap, and often old material can be used in building it. It is easily moved and easily disinfected, and can be changed so frequently that it may be kept on clean ground, free from disease. When a sow farrows in cold weather, a lantern hung to the roof will keep the building sufficiently warm.

The hog bath is the cheapest and most effective way of keeping hogs free from lice and skin diseases. With a hog bath, the hogs dip themselves, often several times a day, and the stockman is saved labor, expense and the need of watchfulness in keeping his hogs free from vermin.

The hog bath may be made of either cement or plank. Cement is much better. It should be 8 x 8 feet, or 8 x 10 feet, and 10 inches deep.

The bath should be filled nearly to the top with water to which a small quantity of crude oil or one of the coal tar dips has been added. The hogs will bathe frequently in this, and the oil will keep the skin healthy. The supply of water and oil or dip should not be changed when it is needed, and the bath should be placed where there is good drainage. In many sections the bath can be used in winter, and then the spray of oil or coal tar dip thoroughly applied all over the body is effective.

The hogs should have short posts set for them in their yards and pastures. Wrap the posts with old bran sacks, and once a week saturate these sacks with crude oil. A loose little dip will rub the spot on the neck and the oil kills the louse. When hogs are found to be lousy, their sleeping, feeding and resting places should be thoroughly cleaned, all bedding burned, and these sprinkled or sprayed with the dip mixture.

Half the weight of a hog at market time must be made from pasture or other forage in order to secure reasonable profits. This requires fenced pastures.

It will pay to fence the outside line of the farm. This will permit hogs to be turned loose and allowed to run over the whole farm early in the fall after the crops are gathered. They will find feed making material in every field that otherwise would be waste. I knew a farmer to turn his hogs in this way on a 160 acre farm where he made brought him $800—every pound of the feed would have been lost had not the hogs got it. It is very curious how easy it is to have several half-acre or acre lots in pasture, and very large pastures should be fenced to make two fields, so that the hogs can be changed from one to another.

Hogs need easy access to pure fresh water every day in the year. Many of the diseases and much of the unthriftness in many herds of hogs is caused by impure water. A hog needs water as pure and clean as that to be used by man. The water should be placed conveniently so that the hog will drink small quantities at a time. A very thirsty hog is likely to gorge himself.

The best source of water for hogs is a good well or spring. It is risky to let hogs get their supply of water from a running stream unless they are a pure breed. If cholera and other diseases are carried by streams, where there is no convenient supply of water in a hog house, a barrel may be mounted on a small sled, and one of the cheap automatic hog waterers attached to the barrel. The barrel can be filled daily from a well and be moved to the most convenient place in the pasture.

A concrete feeding floor is a profitable investment. A floor 30 x 40 feet is large enough for the feeding of a carload of hogs. It should have a slope one way of 6 inches in each 10 feet, so the troughs and feed should be put at the highest point. Then all refuse will work to the lower part, where it can be pushed over with a shovel or wooden pusher. It is a good plan to put a roof over the feeding floor, and have movable sides. In warm weather the sides can be taken off and the roof will give shade. In cold weather the sides can be attached when warm shelter is needed.

Hogs should be comfortably bedded, but it is best to use just enough bedding to keep them warm, and to change it frequently a week. Where a large quantity of bedding is supplied it becomes damp underneath, causing rheumatism and dry hacking cough. Both dust and dampness are opposed to the health of hogs. If not supplied with plenty of comfortable bedding in cold weather, they pile up on top of each other to keep warm. In this way the underones become heated, and when they get out into the cold they are easily attacked by pneumonia and rheumatism. If the attack is not sufficient to kill them, it makes them untidy. It is best to allow only a limited number of hogs to sleep together, and they should have such shelter and bedding that they can keep warm without becoming heated.

Two litters a year means two dividend periods for the hog raiser each year instead of one.

Properly fed and housed, a mature sow will keep in better brooding condition and will give the owner more years of profitable service if she has only one. To do this she must be fed and kept in full supply of bone, blood and muscle making feeds, in order that the development of the next litter will not weaken her by taking these materials from her own body.

At first, after the pigs are born, feed the sow lightly, for if she is fed to give more milk than the pigs should have, she will give them the scours, and many will die; often the whole litter is lost in this way.

Watch the sow and pigs and slowly increase her food as fast as the pigs can take more milk. At the end of two weeks after farrowing she should be given all the milk-producing feeds she will eat. Pasture, skim milk, tankage, shorts, wheat, gluten feed and the hay from alfalfa, clover, peas, are among the best milk-producing feeds.

Barley in moderate quantities is good, but must be fed with large quantities of the milk-producing feeds. An example of either of these grains is certain to bring on bums, one of the most fatal of the diseases of young pigs. Like all growing animals, the pigs must have hours of exercise every day. The cheapest way to put gains on young pigs is through the sow. She has a strong digestion and can turn coarse grains and pasture into easily digested milk.

Pigs will begin to nibble at feed when they are about three weeks old. At this age they should be given a little milk in a trough separate from the mother. After they get to drinking the milk freely, add a little soured whole grain—barley, wheat, peas, milo, or corn. Do not give more than they will eat up clean at one time, and clean the trough well after each feeding.

Pigs should not be weaned until they are at least eight weeks old, and if the sow is not to have a second litter, or if there is time enough in case she is, it is better to let the pig suck until they are ten or twelve weeks old. Farmers often get in a hurry and wean pigs when six weeks old, but unless there is an abundance of milk, and especially good care is given, the pigs are likely to become stunted, sometimes so severely that they never recover.

When the time comes to wean the pigs, cut down the sow's ration to water and alfalfa. She will dry up without injuring her udder. When sows are giving a large supply of milk and all the pigs are taken away at once, her udder often ruined and she becomes unable to suckle another litter.

When first weaned feed the pigs from three to five times a day. While with their mother they took their meals at least every two hours, and too sudden a change is detrimental. After they get to growing vigorously, cut down to two meals a day. When first weaned the pigs should have either skim milk or tankage, until they get over the change from their mother's milk. Every hog raiser should plan if possible to have a good supply of skim milk for this time, for if he cannot do this, tankage will take its place, making it about one-fifth the total weight of grain fed.

The board should be evenly balanced—good in every point. The custom of selecting a board unusually strong, where the sows are weak and perhaps weak where they are strong is a dangerous one. The pigs cannot easily inherit the weak characteristics of both parents.

The board is more than half the hog, so far as influence goes. Each year he may show his strength or weakness in a number of several hundred pigs, and it is most important that he should be of the right type and in great bodily vigor, with such strongly bred ancestors that he will with certainty produce pigs of uniformly proportion.

fitable type, good feeders that will mature early. A board should be selected whose mother and grandmother have had

The board should be pushed with growing feeds, so that he will make a gain every day and will be ready for full maturity. A mixture of any two of more of the following grains is good—corn, barley, or milo, mixed with wheat, peas or shorts. A liberal supply of skim milk is especially good. He should have all the clover or clover he will eat every day, either pasture or hay. A small feed of roots or cooked potatoes is good. Stunting, even for a short time, will permanently injure his value. He should weigh 300 to 400 pounds when 12 months old.

After reaching full growth, the board when not in service, should be given bulky feeds that will keep him full, satisfied, and in good condition, but not too much. The pigs cannot inherit the weak characteristics of both parents.

A few weeks before the beginning of the breeding season the grain feed should be gradually increased, and the amount of roots and alfalfa should be slowly reduced. The animal should be put in perfect condition and good feed, but not made fat. The best results are not secured from a sire that is either fat or thin.

BASHAW: Board of Trade Has Enthusiastic Gathering And Discusses Publicity Campaign

Minutes and notes of public meeting held at Bashaw in the Masonic Hall, at 4 p. m., April 11th, 1913, for the purpose of inviting the residents of Bashaw and District and Buffalo Lake to help financially, etc., in furthering the publicity campaign suggested for the districts at the previous meeting held March 27th, 1913.

Chairman, W. R. Shanks in the chair. On opening the meeting he announced his pleasure in seeing such a good attendance and especially congratulated the ladies present on having shown sufficient interest in the doings of the district as to be present that day. Without further remarks he would ask the secretary to read the minutes of the last meeting after which Mr. Maddison would go a little further into the subject, showing just how the scheme would tend to be an advantage to everyone concerned.

The minutes of the previous meeting held on March 27th, 1913, were duly read by the secretary, after which it was explained that the essence of the whole scheme, was for the purpose of entering into a Publicity campaign for the purpose of inducing people to come and settle in this part of the Province of Alberta, and also to make Buffalo Lake a recognized Alberta Tourist resort.

Mr. Maddison went on to say that undoubtedly this publicity part of the province was second to none, and it only required seeing to convince, and that the lake in question was an asset which was invaluable to the district. Mr. Maddison had reason to say this owing to the fact that fourteen years previously these outstanding features had been the cause of his now having returned here to reside himself.

Regarding the real estate office belonging to the board, Mr. Maddison was pleased to state that the Hudson Bay Co. had sent their authority regarding the selling of their lands in the district; further that one or two gentlemen owning farms in the district who wished to sell were ready to list same with the office. It was explained fully that a complete register would be kept of vacant lands in the district, and upon an applicant desiring to buy in the district he would have an opportunity to look over same with a view to satisfying his requirements, in addition to this an applicant for lands on deciding to look over same would be given a letter of introduction to a member of the advisory board, who would give him all the information possible concerning the land in question. The speaker went on to show how everybody's interest in the district would be advanced by their becoming members of the board, and a number of pertinent questions were put to the audience for the purpose of proving that this scheme was undoubtedly one to be promulgated to the fullest extent. A letter from Chas. S. Hotchkiss, Chief Publicity Commissioner for Alberta was read by common consent; the letter stated that the writer was in fullest accord with the movement and wished the project every success.

In concluding his remarks Mr. Maddison urged everyone to become a member and in so doing they would not only advance their own interests but also the province in general. The meeting was then thrown open to discussion and the chairman requested anyone desiring further information to ask any question at all.
